Recycling concerns

Collection problems worry aldermen

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

The flood of confused calls spurred by the first trash bills from Waste Management last week has slowed to a trickle, but Granite City Council members still had some concerns about recyclables collection at their meeting Tuesday night.

On Tuesday, Alderman Bob Cook said he had received calls from residents in his area who had not yet received recycling bins, and were concerned that they were paying for a service they were not receiving.

Other aldermen were concerned that Waste Management is not currently collecting paper products, other than newspaper, for recycling.

"They're picking up everything else — plastics, glass, aluminum — but the only paper products at this time are the newspapers, because they just don't have a place to take (other paper products)," Mayor Ron Selph said Wednesday.

Under a new contract that went into effect Sept. 1, Waste Management now bills residents directly for collection of trash and recyclables.

Residents had previously paid the city $6 per month, and the city paid Waste Management $7.71 per month per house, using city revenue to make up the difference.

Residents now pay Waste Management $7.34 per month for trash and recyclables. Alderman Nick Petrillo, chairman of the Sanitation and Inspection Committee, said he was disappointed that the hauler was not taking all the recyclables. He said he would ask Dan Hannah of Waste Management to attend the committee's meeting at 6:40 p.m. next Tuesday.

"I think we kind of anticipated that there was going to be kind of a bumpy beginning to this," Petrillo said. "But this confusion with what we're doing with the recyclables just adds to it."

— Nick Petrillo
Alderman

"I think we kind of anticipated that there was going to be kind of a bumpy beginning to this," Petrillo said. "But this confusion with what we're doing with the recyclables just adds to it."

Alderman Eddie Asadorian said he had gotten several calls from constituents.

"People were very upset at the fact that they thought they were doing the world a very great service by participating in this, and then to find out that Waste Management can decide what they will and won't take," Asadorian said.

"I had someone call me and say that they saw Waste Management take their entire blue (recycling bin) and dump it into the trash," he said.

Selph said the hauler will not accept recyclables that are contaminated or not properly sorted, and that might have been what happened in that case.

The primary mandate was that 25 percent of refuse be recycled, and probably that's being well met by them collecting everything else (besides paper products)," he said.

Murder motive: 'womanizing'

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

Frank Earl Brown's live-in girlfriend had grown tired of his womanizing — something authorities say caused a "jealous rage" during which the woman shot Brown twice before mutilating his body.

Suzanne M. Johnson, 41, was charged Tuesday with one count of first-degree murder. She was transferred Tuesday afternoon from the Collinsville city jail to the Madison County Jail where she is being held without bond.

The Greater St. Louis Major Case Squad closed the case three days after Brown's body was found Saturday night at the couple's apartment, 34 Marcia Court.

Brown's body was discovered after a resident of a downstairs apartment noticed blood dripping from his ceiling.

Police announced the charges against Johnson at a press conference Tuesday. Belleville Police Sgt. Mike Boyne, who headed up the Major Case Squad investigation, said Johnson admitted to the crime.

County nixes early retirement proposal

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

An early retirement plan was rejected for now by the Finance and Personnel Committees of the Madison County Board as being too expensive.

At Wednesday's meeting of the full county board, Finance Committee Chairman William Little, D-Alton, said both committees had voted not to recommend the early retirement plan.

County Board Chairman Rudy Papa said that means the proposal will not be acted on by the full board, but could be brought up by committee members at a later date.

Board members had received numerous calls from county employees in support of the program, but Little said both committees had voted against the program in a meeting that morning.

He added that the committees could reconsider an early retirement program if and when it would be shown to save money.

State law requires counties to offer early retirement programs to all employees or none.

In a memo to Board Chairman Rudy Papa, Little said the committees voted against the program "until such time that officeholders and department heads can show a reduction in costs through elimination of positions or otherwise."

Because the early retirement program is part of the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund program, the county can approve an early retirement program at any time in the future.

According to an Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund study, 76 county employees would have been eligible for early retirement. Of those, 41 had indicated they would have been interested in early retirement — 12 in the Sheriff's Department and the rest in other areas of county government.

Man dies after being hit by car

By Mike Viola
Staff writer

A Granite City man was killed Tuesday morning while walking along a highway in Sauget.

Jerry B. Pittman, 50, of 3113 West Chain of Rocks Road, was struck by a vehicle around 6 a.m. Tuesday morning.

A spokesperson for St. Clair County Coroner Rick Stone said the coroner pronounced Pittman dead at the scene at 6:36 a.m. Pittman died of head and chest injuries.

The accident occurred in the 2300 block of Route 3 about 100 feet south of the main gate to Big River Zinc Corp.

Route 3, also commonly referred to as Mississippi Avenue, is five lanes at the site of the accident.

Sauget Police Chief Pat Delaney said Wednesday that it was unknown why Pittman was walking along the highway.

Pittman did not work at Big River. He was hit by a Ford Bronco.

"We don't plan on filing any charges against the driver. He stopped immediately," Delaney said.

Board ruling appealed

An attorney for David Partney has filed an appeal of the Granite City electoral board's decision to throw Partney's referendum petitions off the ballot because they contained too few signatures.

In the appeal, Partney, a candidate for mayor in Granite City, asks a judge to throw out the ruling by the township electoral board and order that the referendum be placed on the ballot.

Petitions filed by Partney Aug. 19 call for voters to decide whether or not township government be continued.

Freight train kills motorist

A 19-year-old man on the way home from helping his brother jump-start his car was struck and killed by a freight train Sunday about a half mile from home.

Eric M. Ivie, of the 6100 block of Old Alton Road, Granite City, was struck by the train around 4 p.m. at Old Alton and Oldenburg roads. He was pronounced dead at the scene, Madison County Coroner Dallas Burke said.

The accident was investigated by the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

Ivie was westbound on Oldenburg Road following a vehicle driven by his brother. They were returning from the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where Ivie had helped his brother with a dead battery.

Sheriff's workers may change

Madison County Sheriff's Department employees interested in changing union representation may have an opportunity to jump ship next month, according to officials of the Illinois State Labor Relations Board.

The Labor Relations Board is considering an election for employees on Oct. 17 or 18 in response to a petition signed by more than 30 percent of the department's staff seeking to replace its current union, a spokesman for the board said.

The labor board had scheduled a hearing for Monday to review the petition but canceled the hearing when the Operating Engineers Local 520 of Mitchell withdrew its objections.

Some members of the department are seeking to replace the Operating Engineers with the Police Benevolent and Protective Association of Illinois, which represents several police officers throughout the state.

Eric Poertner, the association's labor representative, said the election will be held in Madison County, but an exact location has not been chosen.

AIDS patient scared

A former Granite City man who has the virus that causes AIDS is seeing better times here after people in Centralia scared him out of town.

Tony Montgomery, 42, has been staying in a shelter here and doing AIDS fundraising and volunteer work since vandals in Centralia sprayed intimidating messages on the door of his home in August.

Montgomery said he agreed to be interviewed for a newspaper article in Centralia in which he revealed he has the human immunodeficiency virus in an effort to educate people about the virus. The hateful messages appeared soon afterward. Montgomery — a former assistant manager of the Dry Dock Club in Centralia, a meeting place for Alcoholics Anonymous — lived in town for four months before his story appeared July 22 in the Centralia Sentinel.

Soon afterwards, Montgomery said, someone wrote "Tony has AIDS" on a bathroom door at the club. That night, Montgomery came home to find someone had spray-painted a demand on his door: "Take yourself and your nasty disease out of here."

BAC offers hospital course

Belleville Area College's Center for Training Innovations is sponsoring an 11-week certification course for hospital central services technicians.

The course will be held from 5-9 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays, beginning Sept. 19 at BAC's Granite City Campus, 4950 Maryville Road.

Tuition is $325 with textbook charges of about $25. The course is open to supervisors, technicians, infection control employees and any other individuals who wish to acquire a working knowledge of central services techniques. Enrollment will be limited to 25 students.

BAC will award five hours of general studies credit to those who successfully complete the course.

Murder

"The motive was that she was extremely jealous and there was some womanizing going on," Boyne said.

Police said the decapitated body was wrapped in a blanket and stuffed into a large plastic trash can. The head was found in a freezer, police said.

Brown's genitals were mutilated and attempts to sever the man's legs were also made.

"She was definitely trying to hide the body," Boyne said.

Boyne said that the shooting occurred sometime Friday evening.

Despite the fact that Brown stood about 6 feet tall and weighed approximately 200 pounds, police say that Johnson acted alone in her efforts to dispose of Brown.

Madison County State's Attorney William Haine said Johnson admitted to shooting Brown, but said that he had struck her first. Haine said there was no evidence of any physical abuse.

"This is a defense that we will not accept," Haine said.

Haine said that the conclusion of the investigation should bring some relief to Collinsville residents and the apartment community where the murder occurred.

"There was some concern there was a gang hit of some sort... We can clearly state it was not," Haine said.

Brown belonged to a motorcycle club, the Sin City Disciples, and had a criminal history.

"The deceased would not be a candidate for Rotary man of the year," Haine said. "But he did not deserve to die in this fashion."

The two had been seeing each other for 10 to 15 years, but Brown had only moved in with Johnson three months ago. Boyne declined to give further details on events leading up to the murder.

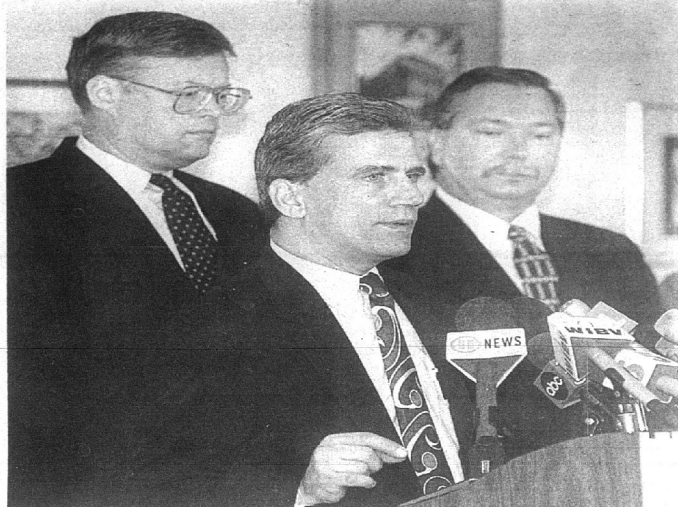

Boyne said both Brown and Johnson are believed to be lifelong residents of the Metro East. He would not say where Johnson was employed.

He said Johnson has two grown children who live in other states.

Haine praised both the Major Case Squad and the Collinsville Police Department for their work in solving the case within 48 hours.

Boyne said that the crime scene was "one of the best preserved" he had ever seen.

Man faces liquor, drug charges

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Two men are facing several charges after being pulled over by Madison police early Sunday morning.

Alan W. Woodward, 39, of the 1600 block of Third Street, Madison, was charged with wearing no seat belt, illegal transportation of alcohol and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Benny G. Dunnivant, 39, of the 700 block of Madison Avenue, was charged with driving with a suspended license, wearing no seat belt and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Additional charges of illegal possession of a controlled substance are pending against both.

According to police, an officer patrolling in the 300 block of Madison avenue saw Dunnivant driving a pick-up truck at about 3:37 a.m. The officer knew Dunnivant's license was suspended and pulled the vehicle over.

After placing Dunnivant under arrest, the officer noticed Woodward had an open 12-ounce can of beer.

A suspected crack pipe was also found during a search of the vehicle.

On Saturday, William M. Sale, 33, of the 2000 block of Beckwith, Madison, was arrested by Illinois State Police on three outstanding warrants and turned over to the Madison police.

Sale had been charged with failure to appear for operating an uninsured motor vehicle and disregarding a traffic control device. He was also wanted by Granite City police for failure to appear on a charge of harassment by telephone.

On Friday, police charged

Judianne Domitrovich, 37, of the 1700 block of Chestnut, Granite City, with operating an uninsured motor vehicle, having no valid drivers' license and having an expired registration.

Domitrovich was stopped by police at 11 p.m. after an officer noticed the expired registration.

A record check revealed she was also wanted by Madison police for failure to appear on charges of resisting a peace officer.

Dog kennel may be owned by Madison

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Venice city officials learned Tuesday that a dog kennel that had been a bone of contention between the cities of Madison and Venice may actually be owned by the city of Madison.

The news was a big surprise to Venice city officials. At Tuesday's city council meeting, City Attorney Casper Nighohossian said that it appeared the kennel — located on a 100-by-100 foot property off Klein Street in Venice — is actually owned by the city of Madison.

Alderman Victor Valentine complained that Madison seemed to be buying up everything, and aldermen said this revelation should make for an interesting meeting between the two cities. A meeting between officials of the two communities to discuss the kennel — the cause of friction between the two cities for some time — had been planned for the near future. Nighohossian, who also serves as city attorney for Madison — said the news also came as a "big surprise" to Madison officials. Nighohossian said he had been looking through county records when he discovered the fact. Nighohossian added that he had not found the actual deed yet.

'Kids were going down there and letting the dogs back out. We're going to have to play more attention to this dog business.'

— Tyrone Echols
Venice mayor

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said he thinks the city "needs to get out of the dog-keeping business."

He added that because of the kennel's secluded location, it was difficult to keep the animals there. "Kids were going down there and letting the dogs back out," he said. "We're going to have to play more attention to this dog business."

The matter came up after Valentine said he had went for a ride with the city humane officer and discussion about the vehicle used to haul stray animals.

"When we got that truck up to 35 miles per hour it had a tendency to go where it wanted to," Valentine said. "There's a nice cage (on the truck) but nothing under it."

Boy Scouts council to celebrate anniversary

The Trails West Council of Boy Scouts of America will celebrate its five-year anniversary by holding Encampment '96 at St. Louis Regional Airport in Bethalto.

The event, to be held Oct. 4-6, will be an opportunity for about 1,200 Boy Scouts to spend time with other troops and to see several different kinds of displays put on by area organizations.

"It's really something to see the enthusiasm generated by large numbers of Scouts," said volunteer organizer Tim Schwartz.

Some St. Louis Rams football players will be on hand Friday, Oct. 4, to meet and interact with the Scouts.

Parachutists will descend Saturday on the airport, where military aircraft dating to World War II will be on display.

Activities on Oct. 5 will be open to the public and include more than just aviation displays.

Stock cars will be displayed by Gateway International Raceway, and pit crew members will be present to discuss racing.

Red Cross personnel will bring a Disaster Action truck and talk about the process of helping victims of catastrophes.

The St. Louis Science Center will present several hands-on displays.

The St. Louis Car Museum will show a selection of classic automobiles, such as a 1923 Ford Model T Runabout and one of 50 1993 Jaguar XJRS Coupes.

There will be several games and sporting opportunities for encampment participants and visitors.

An arena show Saturday night will include performances by the St. Louis Rams' cheerleaders and by local musical act The Shades, as well as an appearance by astronaut Scott Altman.

"Our main thing was to give the kids a great time and to foster the relationship between the two districts," Schwartz said, referring to the Cahokia Mounds and Plaza districts that make up the Trails West Council.

Schwartz said that most displays and services for the encampment were donated or funded by organizations that offered their support. But, he said, "We're always looking for volunteers."

For more information about Encampment '96, call the Trails West Council office at 259-2145.

Garcia called 159 widening force

State funding to widen Illinois Route 159 south of town would have a better chance of approval if GOP candidate Mario Garcia is elected to the state House in November, Republican lawmakers say.

"Mario has made a very convincing case as far as moving money into the budget for this project," said state Rep. Art Tenhouse, R-Quincy, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

Tenhouse spoke at a Garcia news conference in Edwardsville. Garcia, of Belleville, is opposed by Democrat Glenn Bradford of Glen Carbon for the 119th District seat.

State Rep. Ron Stephens, R-Troy, who also attended the conference, said funding for the $48.9 million project would likely only come from a Republican effort.

"I would suggest that a member of the majority party would have more clout," Stephens said.

Bradford fired back in a written statement Wednesday, pointing out that he held a news conference on the topic in July.

"The voters are sick and tired of politicians who put partisanship before doing their job," Bradford said. "When the elections are over, legislators need to put their partisan differences ... I will do that and ask my opponent and Rep. Tenhouse to do the same."

City pay raises to be discussed

A proposal to increase the salary for Granite City elected officials will be the subject of a committee meeting Monday.

The Cable TV, Intergovernmental, Legal and Legislation Committee will meet at 11:30 a.m. Monday at Charlie's Restaurant, 5240 Nameooki Road, Chairman Eddie Asadorian said.

Among agenda items for the meeting is discussion of the pay of all city elected officials, including aldermen, Asadorian said.

Tuesday's City Council meeting.

Sources at City Hall had said last week that a proposal to increase the salary for four elected officials — the mayor, clerk, treasurer and street superintendent — would be presented at Tuesday's council meeting. However, no such proposal was discussed Tuesday.

Most city employees receive raises of about 3 percent a year. But the mayor, city clerk and treasurer last received raises effective May 1, 1991. The salary of the street superintendent was last increased May 1, 1987.

Mayor Ron Selph's current salary is $47,000 per year. City Clerk Judy Whitaker and Treasurer Gail Valle each make $37,000, and Street Superintendent Jerry Lakin makes $35,000.

Aldermen currently are paid $5,400 a year, plus a $1,200 expense account.

Because state law prohibits elected officials from receiving a pay raise during the current term of office, raises, if approved — would take effect next May 1 for the mayor, clerk and treasurer, whose terms expire next year.

The street superintendent's increase would not take effect until 1999, when Lakin's term expires.

Serving The Community For 133 Years

SIUE recruiting makes strides

Efforts at SIUE to recruit minorities, women and the disabled as students and staff are seeing results, but officials are working to better the numbers and keep the people on campus.

Southern Illinois University's 10th annual president's report on Minority, Women and Disabled Students, Faculty and Staff was released last week, showing an overall 4 percent rise in black undergraduate students from 1986 to 1995. In the last four years however, the number of black students has dropped 5 percent to 14.6 percent in 1995.

Numbers of minority and disabled students enrolled for the fall 1996 semester are not yet available, said Sam Smith, university spokesman.

Last fall, 1,231 undergraduates and 179 graduate students were black. Black graduate student enrollment increased by 24 percent from fall 1994 to fall 1995.

SIUE Chancellor Nancy Belch said the university is making progress in recruitment and retention of the various groups, which is one of her goals for SIUE's 50th anniversary in 2007.

The president's report shows grade-point averages for undergraduate black students increased slightly from 1994 to 1995, by .05 for males to an average of 2.15; and by .05 for black females to an average of 2.25.

The percentage of black male undergraduate students in good academic standing rose from 67 percent in 1994 to 69 percent in 1995 and from 73 percent to 76 percent respectively for females.

However, the report states that grade-point averages for black students were lower than all other groups.

John Haller, vice president for academic services, said programs such as precollege courses in East St. Louis, tutoring and mentoring are helpful in promoting minority success.

Women students now outnumber the men at SIUE 6,494 to 4,657, according to the report.

Numbers of disabled students have increased over the years, officials said, jumping from 123 to 165 from fall 1991 to fall 1995. Disabled students now comprise 2 percent of the student body.

Officials said an array of services and special equipment are available to them.

10 homes featured on downtown house tour

Local residents will get a chance to step back in time and visit ten turn-of-the-century homes Sunday during the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society's house tour.

The tour, open from 12:30 to 6:30 p.m., is part of Granite City's yearlong celebration of its 100 anniversary. In addition to the ten homes, the tour will feature Granite City's first fire station — now restored as a museum housing antique pumpers — six area churches and a display of antique cars.

Much of Granite City's heritage is evident in the downtown neighborhood with three homes on "Silk Stocking Row," as Cleveland Boulevard was once known. Several of the homes have been salvaged from use as boarding houses and apartments, with one currently undergoing renovation from one with seven kitchens to a single-family residence. Some of the homes are favorites from past tours and some are being opened for the first time.

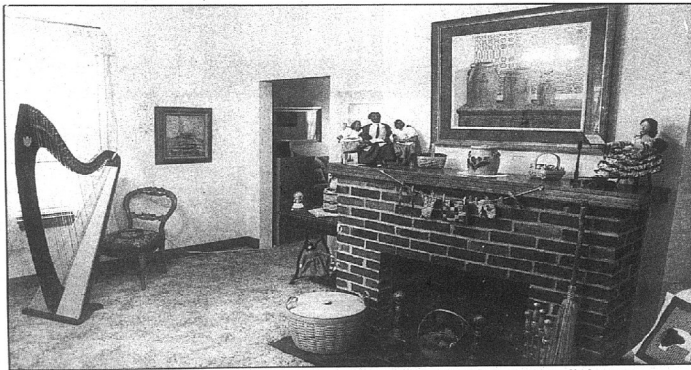

Annie's Pie Pantry, formerly Jessica's Cottage, will serve a Victorian High Tea from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., with a "buy-one-get-one-free" special for tour ticketholders. The Masonic Temple Association is serving its annual sausage and pancake breakfast, starting at 7 a.m., and light refreshments may be purchased from Protestant Welfare at the township hall.

Although the homes are within walking distance of one another, complimentary route transportation will be available from area church parking lots at 21st and Cleveland, 23rd and Grand and 24th and Madison.

Price for tour tickets is $8 the day of the tour at the Granite City Township Hall at 21st and Delmar. Advance tickets are $6 and may be purchased at Annie's Pie Pantry, Jerry's Produce or Tops 'N' Bottoms or from any Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society Member. Group rates are also available. Call 451-1968 for additional information.

This home in the 2200 block of Delmar is one of ten that will be on Sunday's tour.

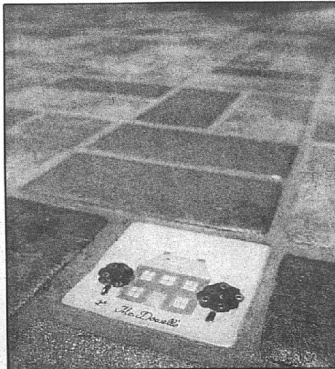

A harp graces the corner of the living room in the McDowell home.

This well-maintained and landscaped home graces the corner of 24th and Delmar.

One home on the tour boasts an elaborate window and chandelier on the landing of the stairs in the entry hall.

The McDowell family had glazed tiles depicting homes in their block, including their own, pictured here, added to the ceramic floor in the kitchen.

The bedroom in the Callaway home is furnished with antiques from the family.

History, geography unite two mayors

Mayors at both ends of the Lewis and Clark Trail were drawn together earlier this month by history and geography.

Oliver Vernor, mayor of Seaside, Ore., at the Pacific end of the trail, compared historical notes with Mayor Lon Smith of Wood River, where the explorers started their historic trek west.

"I'm here from the other end to tell people about our end," said Vernor, who grew up in Wood River and was in town for a 50-year class reunion at East Alton-Wood River High School.

He turned up at the city's new historical museum, which will emphasize Lewis and Clark's part in the city's past, and bought a benefit brick.

Like Smith, Vernor is looking ahead to the year 2004, when the nation celebrates the 200th anniversary of Lewis and Clark's trip, which was organized by President Thomas Jefferson to explore the half-continent he had acquired in the Louisiana Purchase.

Their party of 30 men wintered at Camp DuBois near the current Illinois 3 and 143 in Wood River before leaving May 14, 1804, for the 2,000-mile trip upriver.

They arrived at what is now Seaside, Ore., almost two years later and built nearby Fort Clatsop near Astoria.

Ore., where they endured the rain, replenished supplies and rested before a return trip.

Vernor said his town has a bronze statue of Capt. William Clark and Meriwether Lewis with their dog at the "turn around" at the ocean's edge.

The Seaside salt works, set up on the beach to extract salt from sea water to preserve meat for the expedition's return trip, is still operating, said the mayor's wife, the former Leila Hickerson of Alton.

Seaside has formed a committee of 45 to revive a Lewis and Clark pageant and is holding a contest for a Lewis and Clark celebration logo.

Vernor said Wood River could do some of the same things, including rebuilding Camp DuBois.

"Young people have no idea how rough the explorers had it. At Fort Clatsop, they have the huts and the fort around it with a landing and dugout boats, a keel boat, clothing and the muskets they used. If you can see it, you understand," he said.

Smith said the two need to think of some things to coordinate the 200th anniversary celebration, "but right now I have no idea of what it will be."

BAC names math instructor

Vanessa Miller, of Columbia, has been hired by Belleville Area College as a new full-time mathematics instructor. She will teach at both the Red Bud and Granite City campuses of BAC.

Miller comes to BAC from Heartland Community College in Bloomington, Ill., where she taught math. She also spent five years as a math instructor at Illinois State University. Miller earned both a bachelor's degree in elementary education and a master's degree in math from Eastern Illinois University.

Fest time — You're not Italian? That doesn't matter a bit. You can be as Italian as you want to be this weekend during Collinsville's annual Italian Fest. It takes place Friday and Saturday in the downtown area and features food and drink — and of course plenty of good fun, too. The people gathered here have paused to watch a recent grape stomp, an event that will take place Saturday this year.

Woman had been seen at bar

EDWARDSVILLE — An East Alton woman whose body was found dumped along a state highway was seen as late as 2 a.m. Friday at a bar in Wood River, investigators revealed Sunday.

Tips still are pouring in from citizens anxious to help detectives solve the murder of 28-year-old Toni L. VanDee.

Investigators said Sunday that VanDee had been seen alive at 2 a.m. Friday in the Night Train Lounge, 7 W. Ferguson Ave. Previously authorities had tracked her whereabouts through 1 a.m. when she was seen leaving Donzo's Lounge at 9 E. Ferguson Ave.

The woman had left her home in the 700 block of East Third Street around midnight dressed in jeans, sweat shirt and tennis shoes. Detectives believe the brown-haired, hazel-eyed woman met her killer at or near one of the bars, which are about a block apart.

"We are asking anyone who saw her in the Night Train Lounge to call us. It is also possible that she was hitting other bars in that one-block area Thursday night. Anybody who might have seen her, give us a call," said Lt. Jim Stover, deputy commander of the Greater St. Louis Major Case Squad, which is handling the investigation.

Anyone with information is asked to call 692-0871 or 692-6087.

VanDee's nude body was found dumped about 8:45 a.m. Friday on Sumner Lane, a gravel road off Illinois Route 111 in Wood River by a passer-by.

Wood River police discovered the woman's Pontiac Grand Am about 1 a.m. Saturday on a parking lot behind Donzo's. Seventeen detectives worked through the weekend investigating leads and examining the woman's car.

Detectives also questioned patrons of nearby taverns and talked to her friends to pin down her whereabouts.

"We're trying to track her activities after 1:30 a.m.," Stover said. "We have in excess of 100 leads; we still have plenty of leads and plenty of people to talk to."

Stover said detectives are awaiting results from lab tests on the woman's car. It could take a week for results from tests conducted by a coroner's pathologist to determine if she was raped, he said.

An autopsy showed the mother of two daughters died from blunt trauma to her head. The woman suffered numerous injuries, some of which may have been caused by being hit by a vehicle.

"We are pretty confident we are going to solve this one. It will take time and man hours. It's a matter of finding and talking to the right person," Stover said.

Chinese acrobats to perform at BAC

It's a bit unusual to see men leaping through rings of fire and knives, women yanking their feet up behind their own heads or dozens of people balancing on one bicycle on a college campus.

But that is exactly what will be happening at Bellevue Area College when the Shangri-La Chinese Acrobats perform in October.

The Chinese acrobats will be at BAC's Bellevue Campus, 2500 Carlyle Ave., at 7 p.m., Saturday Oct. 19, and at Collinsville High School Gymnasium, 2201 South Morrison, at 2 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 20.

The performance includes acrobatics, contortion, balancing, Kung Fu and even comedy.

The 16-member acrobatic troupe is a favorite on college campuses across the country. The troupe has performed for large and small venues all the way from Connecticut to Missouri to California. In 1986, the troupe won the Campus Entertainment Award in the Performing Arts by the National Association for Campus Activities.

Tickets are available for both performances through BAC's Bellevue Campus Office of College Activities; the Granite City Campus, 4950 Maryville Road; and Collinsville High School.

Admission is $5 per person and $4 per person for groups of 5 or more. Master Card and Visa are accepted.

For information, call 235-2700.

Self exploration workshop set for Sept. 28, 29

Questions like "What motivates you?" and "How does that affect how you perceive the world and communicate in it?" will be the focus of a "self-exploration" workshop Sept. 28 and 29 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

David Valley, professor and chair of the department of speech communication at SIUE, will guide participants through the workshop titled Discover Yourself, Enneagram: BASICS.

Sessions are scheduled Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Sunday, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., in Classroom Building II, Room 2409. Professor Valley explained that the enneagram is a "map of human experience" that shows nine different characteristics. "Each of us holds many values and ideas, such as goodness, love, efficacy, originality, wisdom, loyalty, joy, power, and peace," he said.

For information, call Valley at 692-3088.

Area man complains:

Navy made him choose between career, child

Decorated Navy petty officer Kenneth Locklear said he was forced to choose between custody of his daughter or his U.S. Navy career.

"I told the Navy I couldn't give up my 4-year-old daughter, Chelsea, and so they abruptly discharged me," said Locklear, a former Navy diver who grew up in Wood River. The 27-year-old Locklear said he was shocked by the reason listed on his 1995 honorable discharge document: "For the convenience of the government on the basis of parenthood."

"I was illegally discharged from the Navy because I was a single male parent trying to take care of my little daughter," said Locklear, a 1977 graduate of East Alton-Wood River High School. Locklear, who lives in West Palm Beach, Fla., is appealing his "discriminatory discharge" of Oct. 15, 1995, to President Clinton.

"As an enlisted single father in the Navy, I was made to choose between my naval career of seven years and my 4-year-old daughter, Chelsea," Locklear said in a letter sent Thursday to Clinton.

Locklear's mother, Linda Grieshaber of Wood River, is supporting her son's campaign to help single parents in the service. "I'm appealing to Sen. Paul Simon and Congressman Jerry Costello for help," she said.

Locklear said he was humiliated by his discharge and that now the U.S. Department of Defense has demanded that he repay $7,996 in bonus money he earned for re-enlisting in the Navy in 1992.

"The Navy broke my contract, so I'm not going to pay back money I don't owe to them," said Locklear, who was decorated twice for "superior performance" for his deep sea dives in searches for crashed airplanes.

His dilemma started in the fall of 1995 when he asked the Navy if he could stay on shore duty while a Virginia Beach, Va., judge decided whether he should have sole custody of his daughter.

I had joint custody of Chelsea, and if I went on deployment to sea I would have probably lost custody of her."

The Navy was downsizing in 1995, and Locklear's Mobile Diving and Salvage Unit in Norfolk, Va., was on alert to be sent anywhere in the world for diving operations in air crashes and rescue, he said.

The Navy told him he had a choice of being deployed to sea duty or to get out of the service.

"I had a 4.0 performance record, the highest in the Navy," Locklear said. "But I didn't want to lose custody of my daughter. I asked the Navy to reconsider my request for shore duty."

Locklear was stunned when a Navy officer handed him his honorable discharge.

"It was a clear case of discrimination," he said. "The Navy did not discharge single mothers who did not want to be deployed to sea. The Navy kicked me out because I was a single male parent trying to support a daughter."

Locklear has remarried, and he and his wife, Heather, are raising Chelsea.

A judge has awarded the sole custody of my daughter," said Locklear, who operates the hyperbaric chamber, a wound treatment unit, at Columbia Hospital in West Palm Beach.

Locklear said he is waging his battle across the country to correct the Navy's discriminatory practices against single parents.

In his letter, he reminded Clinton of a statement he made in an interview with USA Today newspaper.

"If you had to choose between one or the other (family or career), this country's in big trouble," Clinton was quoted as saying in the interview.

"Mr. Clinton's daughter and my daughter are both named Chelsea," Locklear said. "I'm appealing to the president as a father to end discrimination against single parents in the service."

Hospice seeks volunteers

The Visiting Nurse Association of Illinois Hospice is seeking volunteers to provide services to terminally ill patients and their families.

The two-day training session will be held on Sept. 28 and Oct. 5 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Faith Lutheran Church, 520 E. Highway 50, O'Fallon. For more information or to register, call Phyllis Lanoue at 1-600-662-5929.

County

IMRF estimated that the county's cost would be $3,129,263 in additional contributions to fund the early retirement.

That cost would be amortized for five years at an annual expense of $688,529. Because of that cost, the total savings the first year would only be $21,264.

"Their report indicates that as a general rule of thumb, if the county is to save money with the program, the net first-year savings should be twice the first-year costs," the memo said. "Therefore the first-year savings would have to be $1.3 million."

Director of Administration Jim Monday prepared an estimate of the program's impact over a five-year period.

Based on all 41 of the 76 eligible employees who have expressed interest in early retirement, the estimate showed the county would lose approximately $822,000 over that five-year period.

Monday said one reason was that only nine of the 41 positions could be eliminated.

Some Illinois counties have approved early retirement programs since the incentive was authorized by state law last year, Monday said. All eight are much smaller than Madison County.

Recycling

Selph said. "The concern is we'd just as soon get all the recyclables picked up if possible."

Selph said Waste Management officials had indicated they would be sending a letter to residents setting out details of billing and recyclables collection.

The city's final bill — $39 for services already rendered between Feb. 15 and Aug. 31 — went out Tuesday. Waste Management is billing residents in advance, $22.02 for service between Sept. 1 and Nov. 30.

City Hall was inundated last week with hundreds of calls from residents confused about their trash bills. But by Wednesday morning the calls had all but stopped, Selph said.

"We're still getting a few calls from people who didn't get a bin," Selph said Wednesday. "That's probably good — it shows that they want to participate."

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Dane Bauer tees up a kick during Saturday's win over Springfield Sacred Heart-Griffin. The Warriors moved to 3-2-2 with a 1-1 tie Tuesday against CBC.

Warriors, Cadets net draw

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

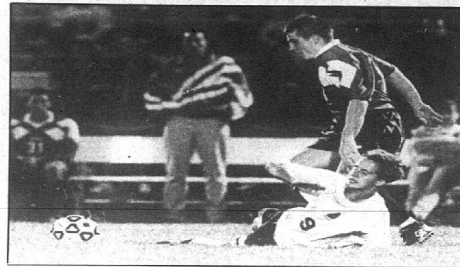

The jury is in: No doubt about it, the Granite City Warriors can play with any team in the area.

GCHS proved that again on Tuesday night, playing the CBC Cadets to a 1-1 draw on their own turf — Klammer Field in Clayton, Mo.

In playing two of the best teams on the Missouri side of the river — CBC and Vianney — the Warriors have come away with a win and a tie. Because of conflicting rules in Missouri and Illinois, no overtime was played in Tuesday's game.

One could say that the Cadets are a bit young this year. Coach Terry Michler started two freshmen Tuesday night. But remember, this is the team that easily defeated Collinsville two weeks ago 3-0.

"We played better in that game," Michler said. "But we didn't play badly tonight, we just had trouble finishing our plays. We did everything but that. We put passes together, and controlled the flow of the play, I thought. We made some nice runs, but give Granite City credit, they played tough defense and took advantage of their opportunities."

Scott Mills (on feet) scored the Warriors' lone goal Tuesday.

Both teams scored what could be considered lucky goals. Scott Mills got Granite City on the board in the first half, and after relentless pressure the Cadets' James Hunt knotted the game in the second half.

And one thing Baker can look to is that the Warriors' communication broke down several times in the game, and overall they made their share of mental mistakes. Still, they stayed with the Cadets.

Granite City 1, CBC 1		1	0	1
GCHS	CBC	1	0	1
First Half
GCHS — Scott Mills (unassisted), 30:50
Second Half
CBC — James Hunt (unassisted), 66:41

GCHS	CBC	0	2	2
CBC	GCHS	2	2	2
Goalkeepers — GCHS: Jeremy Smith (13 shots, 8 saves); CBC: Mike Gallagher (7 shots, 4 saves) several times in the game, and overall they made their share of mental mistakes. Still, they stayed with the Cadets.

CBC (3-1-1) came out firing, but the GCHS defense, led by Kyle Briggs, Eric Edwards and Dane Bauer, remained calm. The Cadets had few quality chances.

"Our captains, again, put forth the journeyman effort," Baker said. "They executed the game plan almost to the letter. Where we usually have trouble is, can we play the full game?"

"They bent, but they didn't" (See GCHS, Page 3B)

JV kickers tie Cadets, move to 5-2-1

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

The Granite City junior varsity soccer squad suffered its first loss of the season Tuesday night, as the Warriors fell to CBC 1-0.

But coach Virgil Kirksey was anything but disappointed. His team played one of the area's best JV teams evenly, with the difference being a lucky goal.

"The JV Cadets tallied with just over nine minutes left in the game to escape with the win against the pesky Warriors, who made up in determination what they might have lacked in skill against CBC."

"The boys played well, (CBC) scored off a deflection off of one of our players," Kirksey said. "(Justin) Roehr didn't have a chance on it. It takes a lot to play even against CBC, and it was even. They really didn't have very many good chances against us, except for that deflection, and it was just one of those breaks."

The Warriors (5-1-2) have competed well against all of their opponents this year, although they've had their share of letdowns. Still, there were no complaints from anybody at Tuesday's game.

"This was one of our better games. We're disappointed we lost, but they played well again," Kirksey said.

The CBC game was a turnaround for the Warriors, who did not have a good stretch of play last week. GCHS defeated Alton, barely, then tied Collinsville last Thursday.

"Always, for some reason, we don't play well at Collinsville," he said. "The Collinsville game was one of our poor ones, and we tied that (1-1); and the Alton game was not a good one for us, either. We won that one playing a man short."

"The other tie was against (Springfield) Sacred Heart-Griffin last weekend, and they're a good team."

Of course, any club needs a solid team effort to compete with the likes of CBC, and the Warriors got that Tuesday.

"Shane Brown had a good game today, and Justin Roehr, our keeper, played well," Kirksey said. "Mason Czar did a good job at stopper for us, and we got good work from our bench — just about everybody that came in."

"We played everybody today, and it's good when you can get everyone in a game like this."

Kirksey said the CBC game was a good experience for his team, as well as a boost of confidence after two so-so efforts.

"They had to pick it up to play with CBC, and we played end-to-end with them. They played as a team, and with a lot of heart. They just worked their buns off," he said.

The JV Warriors' next game is today at home against Edwardsville, the first time GCHS will face Edwardsville in a junior varsity game.

Warriors, Lincoln fighting for 1st win

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Two teams will be fighting for their lives this Saturday, when the Granite City Warriors visit the Lincoln Tigers in a Southwestern Conference soccer game 1:30 p.m. at Jordan Stadium in East St. Louis.

Both teams are 0-3 overall and 0-1 in the conference. Another loss will spell certain doom for one of the teams. The winner will get a big boost of confidence, and have a chance to make some noise in conference play.

Lincoln ran into the buzzsaw known as cross-town rival East St. Louis last Saturday, falling 2-0.

But the Tigers didn't play that badly, considering they were without three of their leading players, including starting quarterback Antwon Tompkins — who were all suspended for disciplinary reasons last week.

Lincoln coach Jimmy Adams did not comment on the suspensions, other than he was "very disappointed" with them. He also said last week that he was unsure whether "any of them will play next week, or in the future."

However, all three were practicing with their Lincoln teammates this week.

Still, whichever team shows up, the Warriors will have to deal with a split-wing option offense.

"We know we'll get a good test from Granite City," Adams said. "From what we know, they're a lot like us. They're a tough, hard-nosed football team that's got some young players, and they've played a tough schedule. If we take them lightly in any way, we'll stick to it."

GCHS coach Nick Petrillo said recently he knows the Tigers will be worthy opponents.

"I know a lot of people are saying the first half of our conference schedule is the easier half, but we know all of these games will be difficult for us. There's no easy teams in our conference," Petrillo said.

Granite City has shown spunk in all of its games, including last week's matchup at Collinsville. The Warriors, down 19-7 at the half and 25-7 in the third quarter, didn't give up and drew to within 25-18 with 11 points in the fourth quarter.

"Everything was going our way there for a while," Petrillo said. (See WARRIORS, Page 3B)

Rafferty keying early rise with Wright State kickers

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

The Wright State University soccer team is off to another fast start this season.

And the local player on the team — Granite City's Jared Rafferty — has already been a big part of WSU's success.

Rafferty, a junior forward on the Raiders, has played a key role in the team's first two wins — including scoring the game-winner against Cincinnati in the recently completed Soccer Village Kickoff Classic Tournament at Xavier University.

Wright State won its second consecutive Kickoff title, and was 2-0 heading into games against Kentucky and Miami (Ohio) this week.

Coach Greg Andrusis is in his 12th season at WSU, a Division I school located in Dayton, Ohio, and has compiled a 125-66-25 mark, averaging more than 11 wins per year. He has never had a losing season at Wright State, and doesn't expect that trend to change this season.

"We have a good mix of experienced players and young recruits, and I'm as excited as I've ever been at this point in a season," he said. "I saw plenty of positives in our opening weekend of play, and I'm very happy with our result at the Kickoff Classic."

Cougars' runners setting strong pace

Coming off a successful weekend at the Western Illinois Invitational, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville men's and women's cross country teams looked to extend their accomplishments as they competed in the Cougar Twilight Meet last Saturday.

The SIUE men finished second overall with four runners placing in the top 15 at Western Illinois. Seniors Travis Roundcount of Carrollton and Gus Coronado of Berwyn finished second and third with times of 15:50 and 15:55, respectively.

Jason Holroyd of Mascoutah took 14th overall (16:56), and George Patrolyk was 15th (16:57).

The SIUE women took third place overall at WIU, with four runners taking spots in the top 15. Senior Vicki Johnson of Plainfield was second with a time of 11:15, and sophomore Kendra Newell of Mt. Vernon took seventh with a time of 11:32.

Freshmen Tricia Huelsman of Breese and Nicole Done of Granite City were 11th and 12th with times of 11:35 and 11:37, respectively.

Although results of last weekend's Twilight meet were not available, head coach Darrell Frerker looked for both teams to shine at that meet and is encouraged by the Cougars' start.

"It's been a very good start to our season, and I look for that to continue," Frerker said.

McKendree College, Vincennes University, Lindenwood College and Quincy University were a few of the teams scheduled to compete in SIUE's first home meet of the year.

The strong freshman class, coupled with the experience of its five returnees, has Frerker excited about his '96 teams.

Improving on last year's third-place finish in the Great Lakes Valley Conference looks quite attainable, according to Frerker, who is in his second year as SIUE's coach.

Johnson is the lone senior on the team, and Christine Peter- (See COUGARS, Page 3B)

break," Michler said of the Warriors. "This is always such a good game between us, and always competitive."

The Warriors (3-2-2) appeared to be just as dangerous as CBC around the goal, and their effort finally paid off in the 32nd minute, as Mills set the ball down in the penalty area and fired a shot on goal. The ball deflected off CBC keeper Mike Gallagher and defender John Tiben, then into the net.

The Warriors had their moments in the second half, but CBC had most of the pressure on the GCHS defense. Cadets senior forward Ryan Ferguson was dazzling, and had at least three solid chances at the net during a 10-minute stretch of the second half.

But it was Hunt — a sophomore who finally got off the net. His shot deflected off at least one defender, and somehow got past keeper Jeremy Smith.

Late in the half, the chances kept coming. Edwards stopped a sure goal in the 73rd minute when he was there to block Tony Pilla's shot from close in. Smith was ready on the play, but Pilla was in the right position to score from less than 10 yards away.

Mills had a chance for his second goal late in the second half, but he was stopped on a quick read by Gallagher.

The Cadets quickly scored again with just three minutes left in the game, when John Snell made a quick diagonal run toward the goal. His first shot was blocked by Smith, but Snell was able to get off a header from the rebound. That shot went wide.

"We did a lot of things well," Baker said. "I can't say enough about them. But (CBC) just keeps coming at you."

"We'll see them again next month. I'm sure of that," said Michler, referring to the Tournament of Champions.

The game was the beginning of an intense week for the Warriors. After a game against Edwardsville today, the Warriors will play twice in the Kansas City area this weekend before returning to begin play in the Hazelwood Central Tournament.

"What we're trying to do is, we're trying to create habits," Baker said. "And we're creating habits of play, we can become pretty good. This was a very good team, with several all-star players, and they played sound, tactical soccer against them."

to said. "How often do you actually recover an onside kick? When we got that, we thought we had a real shot of winning that game."

"We're a young and inexperienced team, and we need what few leaders we have left to step it up and help our younger players," Adams said of the Tigers. "If they do that, and we keep working hard, we could be a pretty good team by the end of the year."

"We feel like we have a legitimate shot at beating Lincoln, but we'll have to watch out for their option attack. You don't see many teams running that offense any more, and that will be a different look for us," Petrillo said. "But if we keep improving in practice, and we keep working hard, then we'll have a good chance at picking up a win. We need one badly."

With teams such as Belleville East, Belleville West and Alton struggling so far, the conference title could be decided as early as Friday night, when Edwardsville (8-0) and East St. Louis Senior (3-0) butt heads at Jordan Stadium.

In other conference action Friday, Belleville West will play at Alton and Collinsville will visit Belleville East. Kick-off for all games is at 7:30 p.m.

The Raiders opened the season by downing host Xavier 2-0 in the first round of the tournament.

Junior midfielder Charley Houck scored both the Raiders' goals in the contest, with fellow midfielders Scott Warren and David Millet assisting on the goals.

In the final round, WSU claimed its fourth tournament title by shutting out Cincinnati 1-0. At the 13:26 mark, Raftery took a pass from forward Brian Seeley and bounced a shot off a Bearcat defender for the lone goal in the game.

"So far this year, Raftery and Houck have really stepped up to be the leading offensive players on this team," Andrews said. "I expect him to have a nose for the ball, but he's elevated his game another notch this year. He's a threat any time he's on the field."

WSU has always been known for its strong defense, but this season marks the first time since 1990 that the team has started out with back-to-back shutouts.

Wright State finished 1995 with a ninth-place ranking in the Great Lakes Region poll.

son is the lone junior. There is one junior college transfer, along with three sophomores and nine freshmen.

SIUE's depth will no doubt come from the freshmen. Newcomers include Dene, Casey Faro of Herrin, Lisa Ribes of Benld and Nicole Wood of Wheaton, among others.

"The next few years will be exciting," Frerker said. "I look to the newcomers to fill in the gaps and be competitive."

The men's team will also have a competitive mix of newcomers and veterans, something that should work to its advantage as well.

The Cougars' 16-man roster includes three seniors: Patrik, who is from Mokena, Roundabout and Coronado.

"I expect the three seniors to lead the team to a successful year," Frerker said.

Four other Cougars are junior college transfers, which should add depth and experience, and seven freshmen will bring their abilities to the fold.

Freshman runners looking to contribute include Larry Wiegand from Granite City, Benhard Heilung of Troy, Tony Jenkins of Mt. Vernon, Clinton Mudd of Red Bud, Tony Alabastro of Sandwich and Quincy natives Eric Davis and Joe Skiles.

"I expect the newcomers to round out the top seven, to allow us to be as competitive as we have been in the last two years," Frerker said.

GCSC dance

The Granite City Soccer Club's annual Beverage and Chicken Dance will be held 6:30 p.m.-midnight, Sept. 21 in the Columbus Room at the KC Hall in Granite City. Music will be provided by the Street Express Band. Tickets are available from GCSC coaches and board members.

The cost of the dance is $15 per person, or $25 per couple. Tickets will also be available at the door. For more information, call the GCSC soccer hotline at 876-9000.

Baseball tryouts

The Bulldogs Midget 1 Baseball Club is holding tryouts for the 1997 season. Players must be born after July 1, 1994. For more information, call (314) 868-7765.

OATH Golf tourney

OATH, the Organization for Advancement of the Handicapped, will present its 35th Annual Charity Golf Tournament on Oct. 18 at Arlington Golf Course. A $35 donation per person includes the entry fee, cart, dinner and beverages.

Attendance prizes include a grand prize for the winning team, plus an optional skins game. Hole sponsorships are available for $50, and greens fees will be paid at the course. Four-person scramble teams are welcome, and the tourney will set up individuals in teams as well.

For information or to register, stop by the OATH office on 7th Street in Madison, or call the office at 876-3178.

Youth soccer tourney

A youth soccer tournament for recreational league teams will be held Oct. 1-18 at the Charles Melvin Price Support Center in Granite City. The tournament will feature teams of seven or eight players per side, and is open to girls and boys ages 5-13.

The registration deadline is Sept. 18. For more information, or to register, call Ruben Menzies, CMPSC soccer coordinator, at 452-4521 during the afternoon, or at 452-7395 in the morning or evening hours.

Flag football league

The fifth annual Budweiser Flag Football League is now forming. Competitive and recreational leagues will be held, with prizes and paid berths to the National Championships awarded in both leagues.

Play will begin in September in Belleville. Space is limited and the leagues are forming quickly. For more information, call 277-4090.

Flag football program

The Granite City Park District is organizing its Flag Football Program. The league will play on Monday nights and Saturday nights at George Wyker Field in Wilson Park.

The league is for boys in grades 3-6. Registration is being taken at the Wilson Park office.

The fees for the program are $23 for district residents and $30 for non-residents. Helmets and shoulder pads are furnished by the Park District. For more information, call the park office at 877-3059.

Soccer tourneys

The Celtic United Soccer Club will host two indoor tournaments this fall.

The first tournament, for boys and girls teams from kindergarten through U-10, will be played Oct. 14-20 at Jamestown Sports Center in North County. The second tournament, for boys K-U-14 teams and girls K-U-18 teams, will be played Oct. 5-12-13 at Concord Sports Club in South County.

The cost for each tournament is $110 per team, with two games guaranteed. For applications or more information, write Celtic United Soccer Club, P.O. Box 13403, St. Louis, Mo., 63138. Or call Mark at (314) 837-3857.

The groom is a 1993 graduate of Granite City High School and will graduate from SBU in May, 1997. He is pursuing a career in medicine.

The couple resides in Bolivar.

Sanders — Banach

Neda Kay Sanders and Dale James Banach were united in marriage at 2 p.m. Jan. 20, 1996 in St. Peter's Cathedral, Belleville. Father Andy Knopik officiated before an altar decorated with white floral displays. Father Dan Jurk assisted in the ceremony.

Robert and Charlene Sanders of Granite City are the parents of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Leo and Doris Banach of Schell.

The bride wore a satin dress by Mori Lee with a high collar, long sleeves, and accented with pearls, bridesmaid sequins and Battenburg lace. The gown featured an extra-long chapel train. Her bouquet was a cascade consisting of white stargazer lilies, white Stephanotis, burgundy roses, white freesia and mixed greenery.

The bridal attendants wore floor-length black double-breasted suits with white satin collar and tear-drop buttons to accentuate the waist. They carried arm bouquets consisting of stargazer lilies, deep pink roses, lavender latices, heather, white freesia and gold tinsel.

All men in the wedding party wore black double-breasted tuxedos. The groom wore a boutonniere of a single gardenia, burgundy rose and white Stephanotis. The groomsmen wore boutonnières consisting of a single rose with alstroemeria blossom and mixed greenery.

The matron of honor was Nora Cobb, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Nancy Sanders, sister of the bride; Angel Rodriguez, Elizabeth Ponsoneau and Marlene Kabat. The miniature bride was Amy Restoff.

Bob Kobat, friend of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Tom Skorch; David and Dennis Banach, brothers of the groom; and Don Pestka. Levi Kabat, godson of the groom, served as the miniature groom with Adam Cobb, nephew of the bride, acting as ring-bearer. Ushers were Kyle Cobb, nephew of the bride; Dave Pestka, Tom Restoff and Norm Sanders, brother of the bride.

Wedding music was provided by Dennis York, organist. Robert Boger, uncle of the bride, sang, "Celtic Alleluia," "Covenant Hymn," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Prayer of St. Francis." Melbourn Boger, uncle of the bride; Gene Knopik, cousin of the groom; and Gerard Winterbottom, cousin of the groom; read selected scriptures during the ceremony.

The guest book was attended by Cathy Jung, cousin of the bride. A reception was held at the American Legion Hall in St. Libory. The hall was decorated with fresh floral arrangements, black pillars topped with florals and free-standing white columns topped with florals.

Turn-A-Bout Players provided the dance music for reception guests. One highlight of the evening was when the band performed a song for the groom that was written by Jeff Steiner, friend and co-worker of the bride. The song was entitled, "Tractor Pull."

Mike Gerbo and Ed Kirby, owners of Floral Original and Julia Betty's of Granite City, served as the wedding coordinators providing all of the outstanding floral arrangements, decorations and much-needed moral support. Roger Stricker of Okawville served as the photographer. Videotaping was conducted by Gary Jancello of Christopher with assistance by Rick Bierschew of Granite City.

After a honeymoon in Hawaii, the couple returned to their home in DuQuoin. Dale is employed in the tooling department of Nascote Industries. Neda serves as a legislative liaison with the Illinois Department of Natural Resources.

Organization

A delicious pot luck meal was served to the members of the Elkettes on Sept. 3 after Euphie Farris, chaplain, gave the prayer. Marie Daigler was the meal coordinator.

Dorothy Kinney, president, opened the meeting and introduced two new members and two visitors. There are now 141 paid Elkettes members. Kinney announced Oct. 27 will be the date of the annual country breakfast. Members are being asked to sign up for the various committees necessary to make the project a success.

Kinney also announced the annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 3 at the Elks Club. Donations of $5 will be given to a charity in lieu of a gift exchange. Each member has been given raffle tickets to sell.

Copies of the new bylaws were distributed to be reviewed and returned at the October meeting, when they will be discussed and voted on.

A steak dinner will be prepared and served by Elks members on Sept. 28.

Fanny Jennings won the 50-50 drawing. Patriotic entertainment followed the meeting. The National Sojourners, masons from St. Louis, dressed in Revolutionary War attire, displayed flags representing states, the Betsy Ross flag, hope, patriotism and other ideals. Each person recited a history of the flag they were presenting. The leader cited the American Creed. At the end of the program, all members of the Elkettes stood, pledged allegiance to the flag and sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The next monthly meeting will be Oct. 1.

work to your advantage. Clear your name now to avoid hassles later. Joy, humor and socializing rule the night. A friend hides his or her aching heart with a smile — see through this.

Thursday, Sept. 19
As the moon transits into the lucky sign of Sagittarius, ambitions bubble. Nobody wants to do it the same old way anymore. Those who think up new methods have the interest of everyone. In fact, the money people are more likely to throw away if you use methods. Love is better if you concentrate on adventure instead of how the other person feels about you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Plans for a journey draw forth your idealism. You have a shot at a financial jackpot. Be prepared to revise and rethink. You will suddenly receive a chance to speak your mind. Libra is genuinely concerned about you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). A contact you made last week is fruitful. With freedom comes responsibility. You'll receive an invitation to an exclusive social event. Now is a good time to repay people for their favor. A debate brings out your best.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). A romantic admirer can't keep feelings secret. Overlook squabbles among relatives. You'll receive fabulous royalties for past work. Your way with words is magnificent and wins you kudos. Brighten up your space.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Displays of affection improve everybody's day. Mystery and intrigue excite you. Rubbing elbows with higher-ups brings you superb resources. You have great reasons to celebrate tonight.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). You have the power to begin a unique and special relationship. Look for a project or occupation that utilizes all of your skills. Your tenacity is admirable. Your brilliant humor eases a touchy situation. Take charge of your destiny.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Sept. 19). The revising you did last month makes business activities terrifically rewarding in early October. Your attractiveness is at a high in December, and many admirers can be found. Be choosy because you can have the cream of the crop. Through October and January, expect bonuses, promotions and salary increases due to your perseverance. Your lucky love signs are Capricorn and Gemini.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Covert negotiations come down in your favor. If a loved one upsets you, let him or her know. Instinct leads you to the right place at the right time. Be patient while puzzle pieces fall into place. Meet interesting people tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). It's a good day to update your transportation or to relocate. Physical attraction arises from a debate or ideological exchange. Someone you greatly respect thinks you're amazing. Allow yourself to feel fragile.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). A foreign language or cuisine adds a new dimension. Others are drawn to the mystery and complexity that surround you. Get rid of a negative influence. People feel deeply flattered when you confide in them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Safeguard your health now to avoid future problems. The security and warmth of home provide comfort. Time is on your side, so look before leaping. A younger person has eyes for you.

'Bogus' engaging, harmless family movie

What an unfortunate idea to title a movie "Bogus." It makes the work such an easy target.

And that's too bad. Because the new Warner Bros. release, though shallow, a bit forced and at times downright irritating, is otherwise an engaging and harmless family movie.

The story is centered on a 7-year-old named Albert (Haley Joel Osment) and the imaginary friend who comes to life when his mother dies. Albert lives in Las Vegas where his unmarried mother Lorraine (Nancy Travis) works as a showgirl. His world — and his family — are the sequined stages of the strip's casinos and pleasure palaces.

Then his world explodes. His mother is killed in a car crash. Albert thinks the other performers will gladly take him in and he will be able to maintain some sort of tie to the only "family" he's ever known, but that's not to be. Lorraine had left a will naming her foster sister Harriet (Whoopi Goldberg) as Albert's guardian in the event of her death.

Big problem. Harriet lives clear across the country in the claustrophobic environs of Newark, N.J.

Albert reluctantly boards the plane and, while he is doodling with a play book the stewardess has given him, a drawing of a big, round face comes to life and starts to talk to him. The face soon takes on more shape and a body, too.

Bogus is Albert's imaginary friend and companion and only Albert can see him.

Back in Newark, the frenetic Harriet races through her work day to meet the youngster at the airport. She's stressed and full of attitude, and the last thing she wants or needs in her single life is a child.

Harriet and Albert spend much of the movie struggling to find a common thread, other than Lorraine.

It's a predictable storyline from writer-producer Jeff Rotberg and screenwriter Alvin Sargent, complete with all the dramatics usually seen in this type of relationship movie. Yes, Albert does try to run away; yes, Harriet does go after him; yes, they fight over most things; yes, Albert's magic tricks pop up.

But the worst device in the movie comes when Harriet is able to see Bogus.

Norman Jewison, an admirable filmmaker of such classics as "The Russians Are Coming! The Russians Are Coming!," "In the Heat of the Night," "The Thomas Crown Affair," as well as the comedy "Moonstruck," manages to pull lovely performances from his actors, but they're all working with flimsy material.

"Bogus" is produced by Jewison, Rotberg and Arnon Milchan and is rated PG. Older, more sophisticated children might be bored.

THE LAW AND YOU
By RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes a couple will obtain a divorce (dissolution of marriage), and the divorce decree (judgment of dissolution) will provide for specific visitation for the non-custodial parent. What happens if circumstances later change which affect the visitation rights? Can either parent take it upon himself to alter the times of visitation?

As an example, in one recent case a father was granted visitation rights with his seven year old and nine year old daughters every other weekend. After the divorce, he began to drink heavily, and the mother feared for their safety when he drove them various places while intoxicated. The mother wanted to know whether she could refuse him his court-ordered visitation until he quit drinking.

In another case, a father was granted visitation every other weekend and on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. For two years, both parents complied with the terms of the court order regarding visitation, but then the father began taking college classes at night on Tuesdays and Thursdays. He wanted to change his evening visitation to Mondays and Wednesdays and wondered whether he had the right to insist on this because of the change in his circumstances.

In cases like these, both parents have a duty to comply with the original court order until it is modified. Certainly the parents can agree to a change, but if an agreement cannot be reached, the parent seeking a change will have to return to court. Even if the parents agree to a change in visitation, it is the recommendation of this office that this agreement be reduced to writing and signed by a judge so that neither parent can later deny that both consented to this.

If either parent files a petition to modify visitation, the court will look at the change of circumstances and then make a decision based on the best interests of the child. It is important to emphasize, however, that neither parent should unilaterally deviate from the terms of the original divorce decree just because he or she thinks it is best. To change a visitation schedule on one's own without the court's approval can result in the parent being found in contempt of court.
